In my time collaborating with Elwyn, he showed a remarkable knowledge of the correct application of Statistical Process Control. His eye for detail enabled us to garner significantly greater information from process data and this facilitated improvements in control and yield. His background as a Chartered Quality Engineer was very evident. Furthermore, he was also humble enough to help out with more mundane tasks when the urgency on the project demanded. This was greatly appreciated.

Elwyn worked with us at our client partner as a quality representative. During his tenure he has demonstrated exceptionally ability to understand the ongoing process and bring in his experience and new ideas to setup a new quality process. The process was highly appreciated by the organization and implemented with success. Elwyn has a wonderful scale of experience which is highly valued in the quality engineering sector. Wish him a grand success in any future assignments he takes up.

Colleen Phythian

Director of Quality Assurance & Regulatory Affairs at genedrive plc

Elwyn has worked for genedrive as a contractor for 3 months. During this time, I have found him to be an extremely passionate QA professional with a vast experience of Quality principles. He has the ability to work with colleagues at all levels within the organisation and is willing to share his knowledge with his peers/colleagues. He is a respectful and supportive individual and a collaborative team player. I am extremely happy to recommend him for any future roles in the Quality arena.

Elwyn impresses, with his direct, practical approach to QA he is capable of communication with and earning respect from both management and shop floor. Constantly he surprised me with practical instructions for the machine operators. Thorough analysis towards suppliers and a true professional in discussions with customers. He singlehanded found ways to significantly reduce scrap and optimize production runs. With a clear understanding between motivating and activating.

Ian Potter

Contract Quality Engineer at HP Chemie Pelzer (Retired)

Elwyn was my Manager for some months during 2013.

I can say with honesty that he was one of the most respected and approachable Managers I have had the good fortune to meet.

He was certainly the most academically qualified of any having attained all four of the Qualifications in the American Society for Quality and one of only a few to accomplish this.

Elwyn leads by example and was supportive to me throughout our working relationship. Listening was a strength reinforced by tolerance.

He exudes a professional demeanour, is assertive but not aggressive and appears to command respect with little effort. His depth of knowledge on multiple Quality Tools and techniques is admirable. We have worked well together to resolve technical issues establishing Root Causes and implementing Containment and Corrective actions. Elwyn is a Quality Professional and extremely competent and capable at the highest levels.

I firmly believe that he would be an asset to any company and would in my opinion be part of the "intellectual capital ". He is also quite a modest man which is an endearing aspect of his character

I worked with Elwyn at BT Cellnet at the start of its transformation into O2 UK and in most need of innovative problem-solving and a structured quality approach. Elwyn is a thought-leader in his field who is an impressive advocate of quality techniques. In my experience he has a unique ability to convey the full life cycle quality approach in a way that inspires middle and senior management and speaks to them in terms of compelling cost-benefits. At a personal level he is an open, supportive professional that I found a real pleasure to work with. Inspiring subject-matter expert on quality management and a supportive colleague through the difficult times. A real pleasure to work with.

David Wilkinson

I worked with Elwyn when he was both Quality Engineering Manager and Project Timing Manager. I found him to be innovative and effective, in particular the project management system which he established for the launch of new products proved to be successful. I would recommend Elwyn as a key member in any effective team.

Elwyn worked for me at BT Cellnet and proved to have an excellent grasp of quality management and its impacts and benefits on the business. His diligence, knowledge, expertise and professionalism enables me to have no hesitation in recommending him for roles in this domain.

Martyn Leese

Business Owner at Various small businesses

February 11, 2010, Martyn managed Elwyn directly

Elwyn reported to me in my role as Chief Operating Officer for Pearson Assessments and Testing International. The group consisted of a number of large business units all of which had their own/varied quality systems. Elwyn worked to unify those systems, make them more robust, filling gaps where they existed working with co-workers and customers at the highest levels.

Rick Suverkrop

Director at Active Leadership

Elwyn's involvement during his period at T&N was in the main, within the High-tech Heat Exchanger/Radiator division. As a Tier 1 supplier to OEMs both locally, in South Africa, and internationally. Elwyn's responsibility, through the team reporting to him, was to install and maintain systems to satisfy the appropriate audits and accreditations as specified by the range of customers.

Further Elwyn used his practical experience, in particular with regard to Statistical Techniques, Problem-Solving techniques and Reliability Engineering, to achieve significant improvements, which contributed very clearly to overall company performance.

During Elwyn's time at T&N, I was responsible for turn-around projects within the T&N group and had the occasion to have Elwyn's input on some of the projects, that I was running in other divisions of the T&N group. I found his approach to be professional at all times. His approach achieved solid buy-in from the management and operators that he was advising, and as such produced effective and robust solutions.
